

Generic Names of the Recurvaria Group (Lepidoptera: Gelechiidae)

RONALD W. HODGES, Entomology Research Division, Agric. Res. Serv., U. S. Department of Agriculture

In Freeman's (1960) discussion of the genus Recurvaria, he stated that most of the North American species described in Recurvaria are not congeneric with the type-species of the genus, R. nanella (Denis & Schiffermüller); and he proposed that Evagora Clemens, the type-species of which is congeneric with many of our species, be used as the valid generic name; however, Evagora Clemens, 1860 is preoccupied by Evagora Péron & Lesneur, 1810. In 1963 Freeman described a new genus Pulicalvaria for six species of the group in question.

Work on a revision of the Nearctic Gelechiidae has shown the following relationships for this group: Coleotechnites Chambers is an available name for most of the North American species presently placed in Recurvaria; Eucordylea Dietz and Pulicalvaria are synonyms of Coleotechnites; Sinoe Chambers is distinct from both Coleotechnites and Recurvaria; and some species presently retained in Recurvaria belong to other genera, both described and new. The reasons for these statements will be presented later; however, in order to make the combinations available, the synonymy of the generic names of the Recurvaria group and their type-species as well as those combinations for which accurate species determinations can be made are presented.
